

Name: Larry Strange

Qualification: His educational background is in Asian history and politics, with a specialist interest in South east Asia and India, Law, and international relations.

Working Experience: More than 16 years professional working experience. He was the Director of The Asia-Australia Institute at the University of New South Wales in Sydney, working on issues of Asian regionalism, major political, economic and social trends in East Asia, and their impact on Australian foreign policy.

Areas of Expertise: Working on issues of Asian regionalism, major political, Economic and Social trend and Organizational Management.

Current Position & Name of institution: He is the Executive Director of the Cambodia Development Resource Institute (CDRI).

Specific Experience relevance: Governance, Relationship/Communication in both government and civil society, Human Resource Management.

Involvement in NGO GPP: Since 2007